FOREWORD

To everyone the eagle stands as the king of birds. He possesses extraordinary beauty and intelligence.

The Yearbook Staff has chosen the Golden Eagle for their theme as a reminder to all readers that, like the Yearbook itself, they should aim for the utmost in everything they do.

As evidence of this fact it is interesting to note that Edmund DeWan, a 9th grader in 1946, suggested the Eagle as a possible mascot for Whitney Point Central School. He too had high ideals, just as everyone who follows the Golden Eagle in Whitney Point Activities works toward maintaining a goal for themselves.

The Yearbook Staff feels that through its collection of the years events it has compounded a lasting memory of the students' and faculty's attainment of beauty and intelligence as exemplified by the Golden Eagle.

MAROON AND GOLD-MRS. TRESSA CORCORAN
Whitney Point's traditional Eagle and full-scale color pictures are new additions to the 1964 Maroon and Gold. Plan groundwork for the yearbook was laid in September but production really began to get under way after ESSPA convention delegates returned from their convention in Syracuse in October. To raise extra money for the yearbook, staff members sold postcards of the two schools. The postcards were taken by Aerial Surveys of Rochester, New York. Pictures for the yearbook were taken by Chenango Studios and a group of student photographers. Business affairs were transacted with Frank A. West Co. and Kingsport Press for some 775 yearbooks.

ESSPA delegates, Cathena Lynch and April Quarella, returned from the Syracuse Conference with a trophy awarded to the Pointer Weekly for first place on the editorial page of mimeographed school papers. Papers were judged during the summer of 1963 for this contest. Professor David Norton of the Syracuse University School of Journalism has continued to send aids and criticisms for the staff. Issues of the paper from April to December have been submitted to the Columbia School Press Association Contest for rating again this year. Hopes are high that the Pointer will be a two time trophy winner this year.

THE LITTLE DOG LAUGHED

The Melipius Umbellus Umbellus.

The psychological "urge to purge."

"All you have to do is find your Energy Peak."

JUNIOR PLAY

THE LITTLE DOG LAUGHED to see such unusual sport. Attractive Laurie Huntington, a sophomore who is majoring in psychology, comes home expecting to find a normal, well adjusted family. She is quite upset when she discovers a bunch of "psychological knots." Laurie seems quite confident that her college courses in psychology will enable her to straighten out her family's tangled lives. She convinces everyone that they must find their energy peak. Her family agrees to go along with her scheme for a while. Finally they get fed up with the whole idea and decide to teach her a lesson. In the end Laurie prefers her family as they are.

"But, Mother the doorbell usually works."

"But ladies, the Zombrowski Ink Blot test is apt to be pretty truthful.

"Come on, come on! Let's git squared away here!"

"The file was probably thrown from that doorway."

"Ze stone, missie, into ze big case."

SENIOR PLAY

DRUMS OF DEATH takes place in an old run down mansion. It is a mystery, centering around the disappearance of the owner of the mansion, Mr. Bailey. The play begins with the appearance of Mr. Bailey's relatives, who have been urgently summoned to his death bed by anonymously written telegrams. A servant who goes into trances, a stone with a curse, a ghostly swamp, and a muddy lagoon lend suspense throughout the play.

Celeste in one of her trances.

Actions speak louder than words.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

Photography Club was born when it was discovered that the school possessed a fine camera and a small laboratory for developing films and enlarging pictures. Although hampered a bit by a late start and lack of a specified time to hold meetings, theory and practice was accomplished in after-school sessions.

LIBRARY CLUB

Library Club members act as assistants in the library to help extend its services to the school. In addition to rendering technical services in the library, the members have a chance to explore new books and develop special abilities. Club training and business meetings are held during activity period each Friday. Each month, after school, a social hour with book talks is scheduled, besides a Christmas Party and picnic at the end of the year. The annual trip to a university campus is planned around the visit to its library.

AUDIO VISUAL CLUB

Audio Visual Club, organized several years ago, has two purposes in mind. One is to provide an opportunity for High School boys to learn the basic operations and set ups involved with audio-visual equipment. The second purpose is to act as aid to the teachers in delivering the equipment and operating it. One goal of the club this year, through the showing of two movies, is to buy new equipment in order to broaden the A. V. program.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA
The FHA motto is "Toward New Horizons." This is a new chapter, therefore, much has had to be done in the way of organization. The highlights of the year have been: the Faculty Tea, winning first place in a competition at the District Rally, familiarizing ourselves with the needs for Muscular Dystrophy and collection $100 in a neighborhood canvas, Installation and Initiation Ceremony in March, and the Spring Rally in April.

At the last basketball game of the season the girls honored the parents with pictures and with the aid of the office secretaries gave a party afterwards. Mrs. Geraldine Harris gave much of her time with practices twice a week and the girls appreciate all the help and patience she has given them the last few years. J. V. BASEBALL-1963
The year of 1963 was a year of rebuilding for the J. V. Team. Led by coach Leo Birmingham they were able to win 5 out of 8 games. The players who showed much improvement were Jerry Whitehead, Jackie Robinson, Gary Bish, George Fitser, Larry Hayes, and Terry Ostrander. JR. HIGH BASEBALL-1963
Essential items for last year's team were time and practice. After these were accomplished, results were quite satisfactory. There did not seem to be any problem in pitching, fielding, and good spirits. The coach, therefore, hoped with enough batting practice, the boys would soar to the heights of a winning season in the spring of 1964.

The team compiling a 5-win, 2-loss, and one-tie record, gained a total of 135 offensive points and only allowed their opponents 69--less than 9 points per game. At the end of the season, the final league standings found Whitney Point in a 3-way deadlock for second place with Sidney and Newark Valley. The team and coaches were congratulated on a fine record, well earned.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The year 1963-64 tireless, unselfish, and dedicated basketball team must be rated as one of WP's outstanding teams. Losers of 4 out of the first 5 league games the team caught fire and went in for 9 straight wins to take the Susquenango League Champion from Windsor. The whole season was an outstanding event as the boys continued to win, proving they had the trademark of true champions-the ability to come from behind. Aside from the league games, they won the Christmas tournament at Homer by defeating Auburn and previously unbeaten Ithaca, Southern Tier Conference Champions.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The J. V. team compiled a record of 13 wins and 5 defeats during the season. The league record was 12 wins to 2 defeats, both by Delhi who won the league title.

With fine ball handling and good rebounding the 8th graders ended the season with a 8-2record. The games with Greene and the Forks highlighted the season.

7th GRADE BASKETBALL
The 7th graders used fine team balance to accomplish a 4-6 record for the year. They had an average of 23.3 points per game.

Wrestling

WRESTLING
The first full 15 match wrestling season was extremely successful for W. P.'s youthful wrestling team. The final 7-7 record included winning the last five matches, 3 over teams that had previously beaten the Whitney Point boys. Winning the Walton Christmas Tournament proved to be the outstanding event of the year with W. P. 110, 80 being next highest. Glenn Tymeson and Dick Lynch reached the Sectionals--coming in 3rd and 8th respectively. W. P. wrestlers are definitely a team to be reckoned with in the near future.
